ED HRUNENI ELECTED AS VICE PRESIDENT OF THE PRIVATE INVESTIGATORS ASSOCIATION OF VIRGINIA

Dulles, VA – October 31, 2007 – Ed Hruneni, the Vice President of Investigative Services for American Security Programs, has been elected as the new Vice President of the Private Investigators Association of Virginia (PIAVA). Mr. Hruneni was elected for a two-year term, which will begin in late 2007.

As Vice President, Mr. Hruneni will support the President of PIAVA, executing the education and advocacy mission of the organization. Mr. Hruneni speculated, “I foresee myself helping with the networking needs of PIAVA, reaching out to private investigation companies across the entire state.”

He added, “I am very proud to serve PIAVA. In Virginia, PIAVA is really the only credible association that specifically looks after the interests of private investigators. We expect the organization to continue its steady pattern of growth. I hope to have a long and successful tenure, and truly look forward to getting started in the new role.”

Congratulating Mr. Hruneni, and alluding to Mr. Hruneni’s background in the Secret Service, the President of PIAVA, Bill Lowrance, commented, “We are very pleased to add Mr. Hruneni to the team. Ed is an expert with broad experience in the field. He has a great deal of professional passion, and is widely known for his personal involvement with Virginia’s investigation community. He adds tremendous credibility to our organization.”

The Private Investigators Association of Virginia (PIAVA) is a professional association with a membership composed of licensed private security businesses and registered private investigators. PIAVA represents the modern investigative industry in Virginia. The three-fold mission of the organization is to create networking opportunities for private investigators, inform consumers about investigative services, and advocate legislation that will prove beneficial to the investigation industry as a whole.

Mr. Hruneni is the Vice President of Investigative Services at American Security Programs. American Security Programs is an American-veteran-owned company that was founded in 1994. The company currently provides security manpower, investigation services, security consulting, and training services for a prestigious portfolio of government and private sector clients. Headquartered in the Washington, D.C. area, American Security Programs has earned its stature among the top security providers by practicing “hands-on” management and by delivering unshakably consistent performance.
